

2026 Provisional Program March 18-19, 2026

DAY 1 – Wednesday, March 18th, 2026

9h00 – Introduction

Session 1 – Hormones influence on Skin & Hair

9h10 – Anne Sirvent | EUROFINS

Clinical Studies Conducted on Cosmetic Products Related to Menopause

9h30 – Maya Naboulsi | CLARINS

9h50 – Simran Sethi | CLIANTHA

A Data-Driven Clinical Study Design for Acne Management Formulations, Integrating Dermatological Gratings, Instrumental Assessments, and Participant-Reported Outcomes

10h00 – Julie Przybylski | Pixience

Clinical imaging redefined: new standards in cosmetic evaluation with the C-Cube

10h10 – Dr Goya Analisis

10h30 – Exhibitors and networking

11h30 – Philippe Papadimitriou | Cosystems

11h50 – | NAOS

The role of hormones in the development of hyperpigmentation and possible assessments

12h10 – DWI LABS

12h20 – Lorena Bellas Domínguez | Zurko

Clinical imaging redefined: new standards in cosmetic evaluation with the C-Cube

12h30 – To be defined

12h40 – Lunch and networking

Session 2 – Exposome impact on Skin & Hair

14h10 – Sébastien Grégoire

Beyond Cosmetics: Evaluating Topical Chemical Exposure and Its Impact on Human Health

14h30 – Juliette Sage | LVMH

Exposing the exposome: over a decade of research on the harmful effects of the exposome on the skin

14h50 – Mr Bouchaia | CNRS

15h10 – Guido Mariotto | MIRAVEX

15h20 – Oliwia Kalinowska | J.S. HAMILTON

Approach to substantiating the claim: Protection against the impact of the exposome on hair and scalp condition.

15h30 – Exhibitors and networking

16h30 – Miko Yamada | COHERENT SCIENCE

Molecular Twin for Skin: Digital Twin-Based Personalization Through AI and Microbiopsy-Derived Transcriptomics

16h50 – Cristiana Banila | MITRABIO

Skin epigenetic clock to measure skin age and environmental exposures

17h10 – Salvatore Del Prete | SERVICE BIOTECH

Monitoring Heavy Metal Contaminants in the Human Hair Matrix: A Perspective for Cosmetic Safety Assessment

17h30 – Edouard Macé | EOTECH

Evaluation of the effects of thermal stress on the surface condition of the hair by interferometric microscopy

17h50 – Jonas Fredriksson | SCIBASE

Evaluation of the effects of thermal stress on the surface condition of the hair by interferometric microscopy

18h00 – DELFIN

18h10 – Paolo Bonini | Olobion

Skin, Hair and Nails Exposome Through Omics

18h20 – End of day 1

18h30 – Cocktail

DAY 2 – Thursday, March 19th, 2026

9h00 – Introduction

Session 1: Hydration evaluation, what's new?

9h10 – Hassan Zahouani | LTDS

9h30 - Lieve Declerc | Proya

9h50 – PhD Trials

10h00 – Margot Vasseur | Damae Medical

3D LC-OCT Skin Biomarkers for Evaluating Skin Hydration and Barrier Function

10h10 – Byome Labs

10h20 – Proderm

From Measurement to Visualization: Innovative Tools for Skin Hydration Assessments

10h30 – Diana Khazaka | Courage & Khazaka electronic

Getting rid of the “Black Box”: Corneometer® to use at the volunteer's home – Project Cliniscale

10h40 – Exhibitors and networking

11h40 – Roundtable of experts

Session 2: Skin & Brain Axis

12h10 – Dr Haykal

The Skin–Brain Axis: Neurocosmetic Innovations for Aesthetic and Emotional Well-Being

12h30 – Arthur Derville | Loretta

Using AFM nanoscale biomarkers to monitor skin stress responses during exam periods

12h40 – Inovapotek

12h50 – Lunch and networking

14h20 – Mathilde de Torsiac | SISLEY

A complete and multi-dimensional method for the assessment of cosmetics effects on well-being

14h40 – To be defined

14h50 – To be defined

15h00 – Eloïse Appelmans Gerardin | BRAIN IMPACT

Cosmetic After-Feel Modulates Brain Activity in Sensory and Reward Networks: An fMRI Study

15h20 – Edith Filaire

The Gut-Skin-Brain Axis: A Psychophysiological Approach in Cosmetic

15h40 - Marie Pultier | SENSEVA

I like, I like less, I like more or I don't like anymore..." Predicting consumer behavior from the affective trace of experience: Development of a specific methodology to assess the coherence of the emotional impact of cosmetic experiences.

16h00 – Magalie Cabannes | GREENTECH

Aspalathin-Rich Extract: A Peripheral Modulator of the Skin-Brain-Hormonal Axis for Holistic Anti-Aging Skincare in men

16h20 – Anne Charpentier | Skinobs

16h30 – End to Cosmetotest 2026

